Renovated in 2006, 2016

Hotel Viking opened in Newport in 1926 atop the Historic Hill neighborhood overlooking one of America's most charming seaside towns. For decades, wealthy corporate barons rubbed shoulders with famous entertainers and powerful politicians in the grand ballroom. The hotel hosted the city's most exclusive social events and business gatherings, earning a reputation as Newport's landmark property for gracious hospitality and personalized service.

The five-story American Colonial hotel has proudly maintained its architectural grandeur, the glamour of 1920s America, and its legacy as one of Rhode Island's original local hotels for visitors who want to experience the true spirit of Newport. At the same time, Hotel Viking is thoroughly outfitted with all of the modern amenities required by today's most critical leisure and business travelers.
